The Camden County Superior Court has certified a Class Action on behalf of all individuals enrolled in Star Career Academy's Surgical Technology Program in the State of New Jersey at any time since June 29, 2011 (the "Class Period"). The Class Representative alleges that Star personnel, and executives, and officers knowingly concealed, suppressed, and failed to disclose or correct material information that Star's ST Program applicants, students, and graduates were entitled to have before, during, and after they decided to enroll and pay to participate in the ST Program. The Class Representative seeks to recover for herself and the Class Members all the money Star obtained from or on behalf of the ST class members, as well
